Ground Floor

Chatsworth House is a large house with light and dark rooms. At Christmas time, the house is busy with lots of visitors. If you need any help, you can ask a guide at any time. You can ask to use a quiet space if you need to. You can borrow ear defenders or a sensory bag when you arrive. You will need to have your tickets ready to scan before you enter the house.

This map is designed to tell you about the lighting, sound and smells on the visitor route. If you are using a wheelchair, you can ask a guide to use the lift.

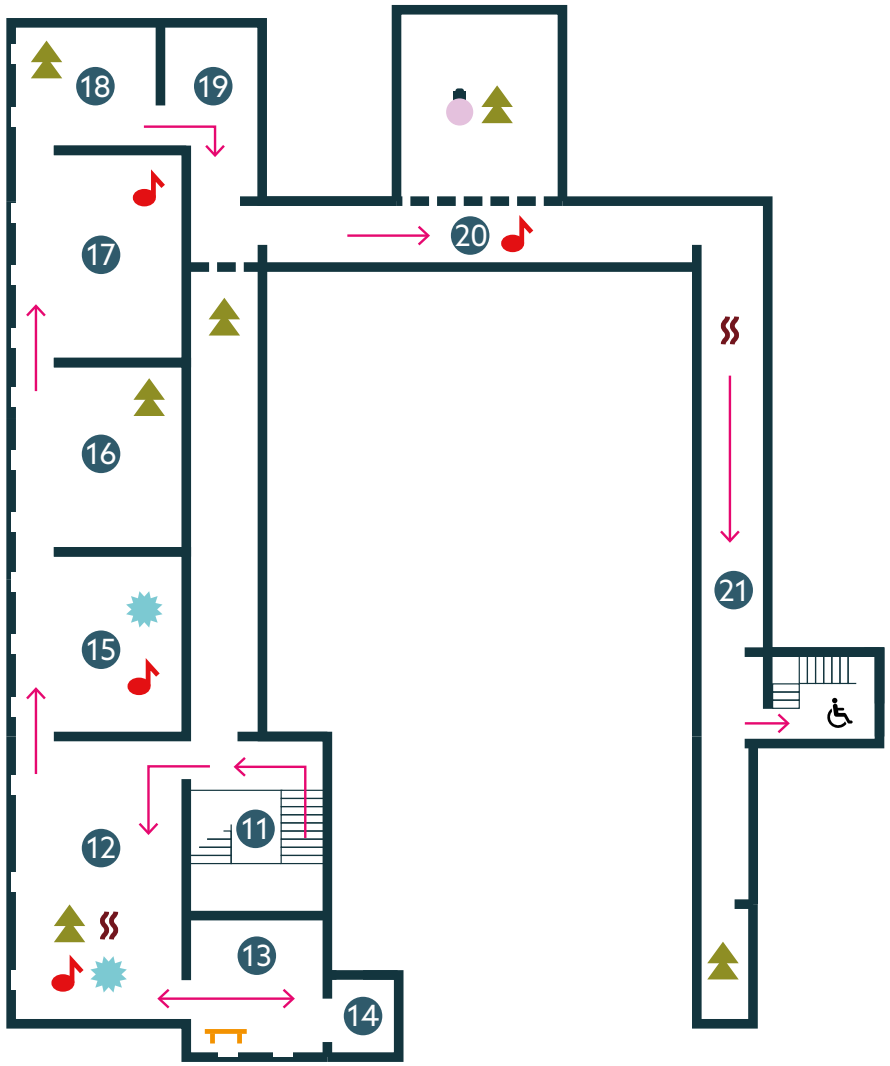

1. You will enter the house through a covered waiting area. There are benches for you to sit on.
2. There is a tree with lighting. You will hear a choir singing 'The 12 Days of Christmas'. You will go up some stairs and through another arch. Ask a guide if you need to use a lift.
3. You will see decorations above your head in woodland colours. The light levels are low, and there are candles on the windowsills.
4. In the Painted Hall there is a large tree made from willow in the middle of the room. You will hear music and there is scent. The tree is decorated with golden pears and a paper partridge with shadows on the floor.
5. You will go through an outside passage. You can see through the walls and there are decorations overhead.
6. You will see a decorated tree and you may hear sound coming from the Painted Hall.
7. The Chapel has low lighting and a large, decorated tree. There are paper doves hanging above your head. There is seating, music and the sound of owls.
8. There is a tree with lights. There is a display of paper hens and other large decorations. There is some seating. You may hear music from the Chapel.
9. You will go under a decorated ceiling of paper birds and music notes. There is a central tree and the sound of birdsong. You may hear music from other rooms.
11. The next room is up the stairs.
Ask a guide if you need to use the lift.

Scents · Lighting · Trees · Wheelchair ramp / lift
Music / sound effects · Projections · Seating

Second Floor

11. Garland is wrapped around the staircase. You can still use the handrails if you need to. There is a display of golden rings overhead as you go up the stairs.
12. This room has low lighting and scent. There is an animated projection on three walls. You will see flowers, butterflies and birds. There is the sound of birdsong, and you can sit on the window seats.
13. This room is a stop along your journey. It has more seating, and a place to send Christmas wishes. It may be busy and noisy. To continue your journey, return to room 12.
14. If you need a break, ask a guide to use the quiet space.
15. This room has low lighting with an animated projection on one wall. Seating is available in the window seats.
16. This room has low lighting. It has a decorated tree and paper decorations the centre of the room.
17. This room has low lighting. There is a large display that has drawings of dancing women. They rotate slowly in a circle. There is also music.
18. This small room has a tree and wreaths on the walls.
19. This small room has baubles hanging overhead.
20. You will see a decorated tree. Turn left into the next room. There are overhead decorations, music and places to sit. You can look into a decorated room but cannot enter.
21. You will go under decorated archways. They have dried flowers and herbs that smell. You can see objects in glass shelves. You will now go down the stairs. Ask a guide if you need to use the lift.

Scents Lighting Trees Wheelchair ramp / lift

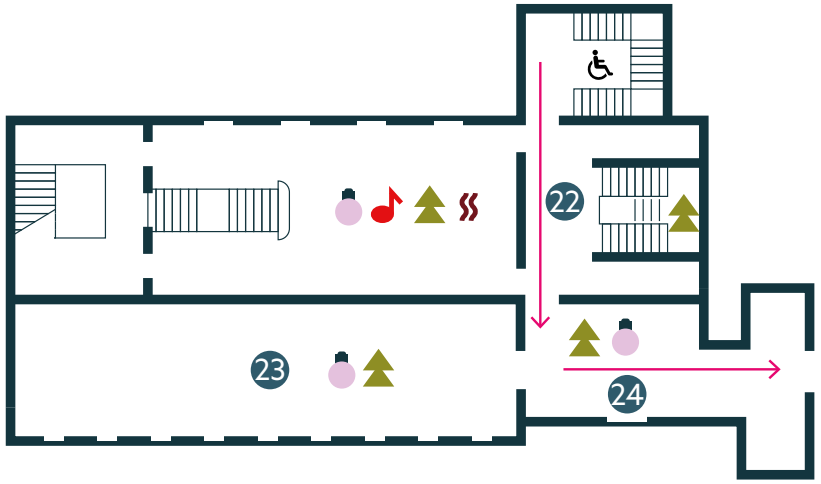

Music / sound effects Projections Seating

First Floor

22 There is one large Christmas tree on a plinth.

23 You can look into the library but cannot enter. There is a decorated tree.

24 There is a rotating tree with lighting. You can also see the garden from this window.

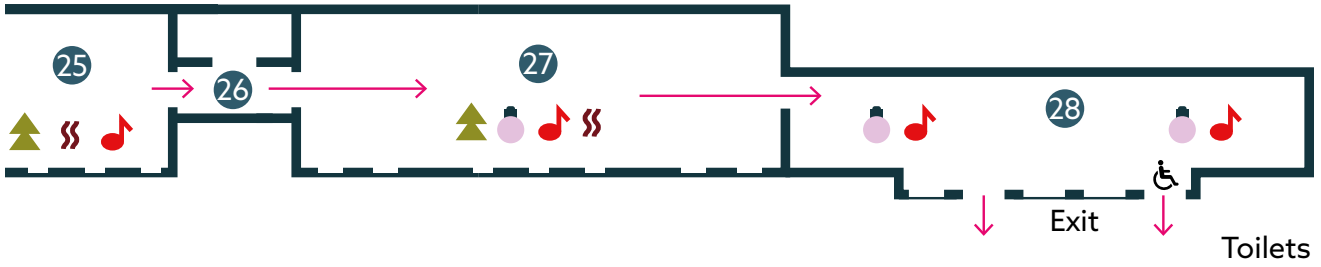

North Wing

25 You will go through a decorated archway. The table is set for dinner and has picture frames with animations. There are two large trees and scents. You will hear the sound of a party.

26 You will see decorations overhead.

27 The sculpture gallery is dimly lit with the sound of drumming. There are trees and strong shadows on the wall and floor. There is a central feature made from drumsticks. You may hear music and smell Christmas scents from the shop at the end of this room.

28 There are lots of Christmas decorations and the room has scents and music. This shop can be busy. You can go through the shop to get to the garden. The exits are marked on the glass doors. There are toilets outside the shop.

Scents Lighting Trees Wheelchair ramp / lift

Music / sound effects Projections Seating